

No actors, no show~ponies.

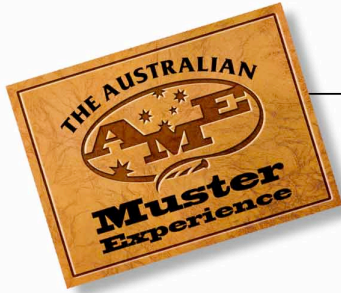

A rambling 19th Century inspired outback station Building and stockyards with stunning uninterrupted views to Port Douglas, this purpose built facility offers guests an authentic representation of a working cattle station in a bygone era. The spirit of Wild Australia stretches out before you, as stock horses and riders ignite the courage and will of the men and women that carved a life in the Outback. Framed by majestic rainforest, the lush green valley comes alive to the sound of thundering hooves, cracking stockwhips, and working horses, as a bustling mob of cattle are mustered and corralled before you and your guests.
